Re: Waste Licence Application, Oxigen Environmental Ltd, Ballymount Road Lower, Clondalkin, Dublin 22.

Dear Ms. Berney,

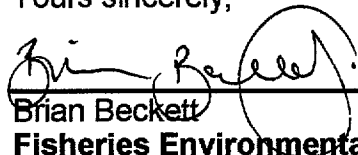

In relation to the above waste application please find below a list of our observations.

The surface water from the site will be discharging to the South Dublin County Council surface water sewer, which serves the Ballymount Industrial Estate, via an oil interceptor and silt trap. This surface water sewer discharges into the Ballymount Stream, which in turn discharges into the Camac River. The site is located within the sub-catchment River Camac which is a tributary of the River Liffey, a Salmonid system.

BAT mitigation measures must be fully implemented to ensure protection of the downstream surface water system. It is important to note that comprehensive on site housekeeping and infrastructural initiatives are required in order to achieve this goal. Some areas of concern would be effective separation of wastewater streams (foul water from surface water) and the management of on-site leachate, hazardous liquid and runoff from site operations such as vehicle washing and road sweeping. It would also be prudent to carry out a daily visual check on all surface water discharges as well as carrying out quarterly analysis for the parameters set out in EPA Waste Licence 208-1.

If all mitigation measures outlined are adhered to, the Board has no objections to the proposed redevelopment.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Beckett
