

To Whom It May Concern,

As an organisation representing rural dwellers we are greatly concerned about the proposed aerobic digester plant to be sited on the Slaney river at the Deeps.

Our concern centres mainly around the potential nuisance which emissions and raw materials will have and especially the incidence of odour which due to its pervasiveness, will cause serious deterioration in the quality of life of those living in surrounding areas.

We also believe that this plant situated in a scenic area which is designated high amenity should not be permitted as it totally contravenes the Government's and Local Authority's concept of sustainable development.

The rights of people not to have a pollutant industry located in a populated area must in our view supercede a promoters narrow interest. An enterprise of this type should be located on a site far removed from human habitation and we urge you to take this into consideration in assessing the application for a license for this project.
