Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to you concerning the proposed meat and bone meal burning at Lagan Cement, Kinnegad. When planning permission was originally given for this plant local residents, of which I am one, were promised that only coal, oil or gas would ever be burned at this plant. Why then is there talk of meat and bone meal being burned?

Can you assure me with one hundred percent certitude that the proposed incineration will not affect our water supply or pose health risks to us in the future?

I believe that you cannot do this and therefore I would like to record my objection to this proposal and trust that you will protect our environment for all of us here now and for all future residents.

Yours faithfully,

Anne Hynes
