To whom it may concern,

I Paul Boland of Killiskillen, Kinnefad, Co. Meath

1.

State that prior notice was never giving to me or my wife until we called lagan about the severity of blasting, to date there was one siren sounded that was heard from my home.

2.

Catherine asked lagan to buy the house because lagan was frightening our kids with blasting, Lagan first approached us in late 2005 and asked if we would sell them our land for €55,000 we refused there offer because we were happy in our new renovated house and did not want heavy plant machines next to our house, not long after that Catherine noticed vibrations getting worse and on the 29 January 2010 simply had enough.

3.

Only one extension has been added to my home and decorative order of two rooms bare no reflection on the issue at hand and their comments are of poor taste.

4.

With regard to lagan stating that they investigated my well is an understatement to say the least, when we first contacted lagan about well they simply took my water supply and placed it in a well in a derelict house next to mine, the water that came from that well for one day was simply unusable, filthy and with small children dangerous to their health it was brown and smelled and the well went dry the next day, they stated that I had a plumbing problem. There was no problem with plumbing or the water pump there was simply no water in the well.

Yours Kindly,
Paul and Catherine Boland.
