Subject: RE: DAS Permit app. S0007-02 Kerry County Council (Fenit Harbour)

Hi Tara,

Having reviewed the archaeological assessment report detailing the dive inspections at the site of the proposed dumpsite for the dredging works at Fenit Harbour, the Underwater Archaeology Unit has no objections to the permit being granted on underwater archaeological grounds. We have no further requirements for this aspect of the works at Fenit.

I have sent a similar response via our Central Applications Unit's Dats system.

Best regards,

Connie

Dear Mr Ó Chonchúir,

Re: Dumping at Sea Permit application by Kerry County Council in respect of Fenit Harbour (Reg. No. S0007-02)

I refer to the above application for a Dumping at Sea Permit, which is currently under assessment by the Agency.

I wish to advise that, on foot of observations made by your Department on 30th April 2015, the applicant has submitted a marine mammal risk assessment and an archaeological dive truthing survey in response to a Section 5(2) notice for further information issued by the Agency. Copies of these reports are available to view on the EPA website at:

Having considered the further information submitted, if the Department of Arts, Heritage and the Gaeltacht wishes to make any further observations on this application can you please forward them to me by email response by Friday 4th September 2015.

Kind regards,

Tara Higgins
