I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

I understand some dredging occurs annually on a small scale but nothing like this. I also understand the proposed dredging is part of a plan to deepen Dublin Port. However, I think these economic gains are likely to come at the cost of Dublin Bays unique biosphere.

Yours sincerely,

Killian Redmond
