I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

I use Dublin Bay in a myriad of ways and cannot understand why it is in order for one group to dump dredge waste into it while telling other users to keep it clean and look after it.

I work with children who mimic closely what adults around them do. They are our future and, no doubt, will have no difficulty dumping whatever wherever if they see responsible adults dumping dredge waste willfully into Dublin Bay.

It is a huge underused amenity which should be protected because, once it has been decided that this disgraceful act of corporate vandalism can proceed, it will be open season for Dublin Bay

Yours sincerely,

Peter McCabe
