I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

It has been advertised as been needed for Tall Cruise Ships . However Cruise ships are already able to enter Dublin Port. It would appear that this is required for deep sea barges rather than Cruise ships .

Experts say that this will ruin Dublin Bay and places like Dollymount will never get a Blue flag as a result. As a Resident of Portmarnock I am worried about the effect this dumping will have give the heavy metal content and the fact that the sludge is too toxic to be even dumped on land .

Please stop this dumping . Experts also say that the only suitable place to dump this is 20 miles out to sea

Yours sincerely,

David Kelly
