I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

What logic or sense of civic and environmental responsibility is demonstrated in this selfish and short-term 'solution'? It is the equivalent of sticking one's head in the sand with the belief that what can't be seen, doesn't happen. This is NOT good civic management.

Yours sincerely,
