I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

While I do not pretend to understand the science of the most likely impact of the proposed dumping, I am in the water in Dublin Bay almost on a weekly basis since 1980 through snorkelling in Scotsman's Bay off Sandycove in Winter, to diving around the islands off Dalkey, Howth and Malahide, and wrecks around Dublin Bay.

I dread to think of the decreased conditions in the Bay if it goes ahead, the UNESCO impact for Dublin and Ireland, surely no part of this can be legitimate?!

Yours sincerely,

Peter Brady
