I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay. To willfully destroy an environment that has taken years to evolve is very short sighted, and while I acknowledge that yearly maintenance is required to allow the business of the port to operate is vital to the area as a whole, I fear that a massive operation like this will destroy the sea life for years to come.

Yours sincerely,
