Subject: No Dumping off Howth or Sutton Coast

Hello,

I've just heard that as part of the Alexandra Basin Redevelopment Project, there will be excavated material dumped 3 miles from Howth Head by Dublin Port. I cannot believe that just after the COP 21 in Paris last year, this type of irresponsible action is still being considered and proposed.

I own a house in Sutton and go there every year on holiday. I love the area and formally object to any redevelopment to let cruise ships into Dublin Port or allow any dumping of toxic material.

Yours faithfully,

Sally O'Shea
