RE; P0487-07

Dear Sir/Madam

NO Environmental Impact Assessment as required under the Directive and clarified by Case C50/09 has ever been carried out for this development.

I have considered the EIS, planning permission and planning inspectors report and I have assessed the EIS in relation to the environmental impacts of the operation of the activity and consider that it identifies, describes and assesses in an appropriate manner the direct and indirect effects of the project on the factors as required in Article 3 of the EIA Directive.

This is not an Environmental Impact Assessment as required.

Yours faithfully

Peter Sweetman
