I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay. The protection of the natural environment and the life system of the Dublin bay must be a priority of the Irish government because it represents a precious asset for the economy of the capital. Many Dubliners live on the natural resources provided by the bay: fishermen, divers, aquatic sport centres, etc. Destroying the Dublin Bay might represent a huge disaster from both the naturalistic and economical points of view. And Dublin will lose one of its most important strengths.

Yours sincerely,

Giulia Vilone
