I write to you to express my concern and opposition at the recent proposal of Dublin Port to undertake a dredging project that will see 9.7 million tonnes of dredge waste into Dublin Bay.

If that waste gets dumped, there is no going back. Unknown chemicals and toxic materials, possible release of hydrogen sulphide, the impact of all that sediment with no control over where it will end up - all that in a supposedly protected area? The short term economic gain made will be wiped out by the long term, irreversible damage to the bay, the wildlife and ultimately us as well.

Please reject the Dublin Port Company's application.

Yours sincerely,

Bébhinn NicLiam
