Dear Sir/Madam,

Following an inspection of the development at, Tara Mines Tailings Dump, in Navan by Meath County Council, the Planning Authority, it was noted that the importation of material for the purpose of rehabilitation is being undertaken. However Meath Co. Co. also stated, on the 27/10/2017 that,

"Tara Mines have also applied to the Environmental Protection Agency for permission to undertake pre-construction work activities on the site and are currently awaiting their decision. Tara Mines to liaise further with the Planning Authority pending same."

Can you please give me details of that request, and if one disagrees with such construction work being carried out, with out planning permission, how does one object to that application. Also what part does it take in the planning process.

Thanking you

Fiacra O Cinneide.
