POLLUTION OF CORK HARBOUR

May 2019

Ireland becomes the second country in the world to declare a climate and biodiversity emergency

September 2019

We plead with the Environmental Protection Agency to refuse an application to dump over a billion litres of waste products into Cork Harbour annually, changing the biodiversity of Cork Harbour forever. This attempt to pollute these waters is driven purely by the profit to be gained by DairyGold and Tine.

The mission statement of the EPA reads:-

"To protect and improve the environment as a valuable asset for the people of Ireland. To protect our people and the environment from harmful effects of radiation and pollution."

We ask you to respect the declaration made by the Irish Government and your mission statement and refuse this application. Pollution for profit is wrong and always will be.
