To whom it may concern,

I'm writing to say I am against the expansion of the anglo beef processing plant.

I'm a resident of Ferrybank and live in Abbey Park. I cannot take the smell that pollutes our air every day in Ferrybank. I cannot put my clothes on the line without the stench of rotting flesh going through my clothes and my babies clothes. I do not drive so I rely on walking. I have twin babies and every single time I go outside my door we are greeted with multiple trucks filled with decaying animals and my children are breathing this in. It's traumatizing to even dare to think what we are breathing in. They're not even a year old and know the smell of a dead body. This cannot be good for anyone. You can smell this for miles and miles, all the way past Aldi on the opposite side of Ferrybank to across the city to the Dunmore road. How is this allowed, and why is it ok for people to be living in these conditions. It's a smell that no one can get used to. It is an environmental issue and it is a massive problem.
