Objection to expansion of the ABP meat rendering Plant In Christendom, Ferrybank, Waterford (Poo40-03)

I would like to submit my objection to the expansion of the ABP meat rendering plant in Ferrybank, Waterford.

Already in the area there is a significant problem with horrible odours, poor air quality and water pollution as a result of the existing plant which is situated in a most unsuitable site close to residential estates and a city. It should never have gotten planning permission originally.

Rather than applying for a licence to expand, this plant should be looking for a more suitable site to relocate to, far from residential and urban areas.

The location of this plant has a very negative effect on the health and wellbeing of the residents in the vicinity and under no circumstances should this licence be granted
