

Attachment H8: Vibration

The proposed composting operations will not include activities which are a direct source of vibration, such as rock blasting. Vibration sources will be limited to the increased traffic on the access roads, earth moving operations during development and low level vibration caused by site machinery moving waste materials and compost around the site. These works are not expected to cause vibration levels which could be a source of disturbance to the residents, or cause any structural damage in the area.

For reference purposes only.
Consent of copyright owner required for any other use.