I will confirm with area office but rushbrook (older section is in Cobh area) while the north cobh plant relates to new housing developments in the Rushbrook area
However this will need to be formally clarified.

Gavin
Attached shows designated aquaculture areas in cork harbour

As you can see neither are in the channel that is relative to the passage west/monkstown agglomeration

This channel is a shipping channel and that part of the harbour is used for a ferry and normal ship movements in/out of the harbour
